Treat Yourself: Vancouver's Best Shopping Malls and Centers

Whether you prefer strolling around outside as you pop in and out of shops, or getting your shopping done all under one roof, there are a variety of different experiences to be had in Vancouver. From outlet stores to high-end department stores to one-of-a-kind boutiques, there's shopping for different tastes and budgets.

For every day shopping Park Royal Shopping Centre and the Pacific Centre are great options. You'll find familiar national and international brands you know and love. Park Royal is great for a sunny day because it's an outdoor center, while Pacific Centre will keep you covered on rainy days.

Looking for discounts? Make your way out towards Vancouver's International Airport and you'll find the McArthurGlen Designer Outlet Vancouver Airport. This outdoor shopping center offers luxury goods at a discounted price throughout the year. From Coach and Cole Haan to J. Crew and Carters, there are stores for all ages here.

For a boutique shopping experience, head to Gastown. It's not so much a mall, but a neighborhood that's created its own type of shopping center. Here, you'll find all sorts of trendy shops that carry one-of-a-kind pieces you won't find elsewhere. With plenty of restaurants and cafes throughout the neighborhood, you don't have to look far for a pit stop.

When shopping with the family, it's nice to be able to find everything you need in one area. Granville Island is where you'll find something for the kids, a new piece of jewelry for her and a cold six pack of beer for him. Head into the Public Market to buy ingredients for dinner, or ready-made meals that can be enjoyed right away.
